Enhancements

Instant Report Re-run with “Cancel and Re-create”

Running profile reports is now faster and more flexible. Previously, when generating a Report Summary or Active Medication Report, the system created a live report link that remained active for several minutes. If you noticed missing or incorrect information after opening the report, you had to wait for the report to expire before making updates and re-running it.

We’ve added a new Cancel and Re-create action to the report flow. If you spot an issue after generating a report, you can now cancel the current report and instantly regenerate it after making changes—no waiting required. This makes correcting medications, conditions, or other profile details significantly quicker and less disruptive.

Improved Audio Note Summarization

Audio note summaries are now more detailed and useful. Previously, recorded notes included a transcription and a brief AI-generated summary with limited structure or context.

Now, when you record a note in Primary Record—or upload an audio file—the system generates a more robust summary. Summaries are better organized around key topics, speakers when applicable, and any follow-up tasks or action items identified during the conversation. This makes it easier to review, understand, and act on recorded notes without re-listening to the full audio.

Bugs & Issues

- Issues with rendering reports generated by scanning the QR code have been resolved.
- Notification badges now clear correctly if the message or comment was deleted.
- The application firewall and services were updated to maintain security and functionality.
